Additional Information

Experience	Personal skills
My studies in web and marketing areas, combined with the professional experience as an employee and freelancer have formed me in a comprehensive and multidisciplinary way. This allows me to contribute through all stages, from briefing to final implementation.	I am a highly motivated, confident professional, with good organizational and time management skills. I'm able to work both independently and in team, under pressure and on multiple projects with tight schedule. I'm also able to prioritize multiple and diverse tasks and to strategise projects.

Interests

I'm extremely passionate about everything that revolves around the web, and every day I search for the latest web technologies and trends across the most famous Italian and English blogs.

Goals

I am looking for a role in a Web Agency as Web Marketing Specialist and/or front end Web Designer, in which to apply and develop what have learned in my professional career.
